

Nature & Health

Research, Practice and Policy

Online Symposium

We are excited to let you know that the inaugural “Nature & Health” Symposium has been adapted to a series of 5 interactive webinars. The new format will share research and practice over the month of June, showcasing nature-based health interventions in action.

Join us online in June 2020!

Office of the Pro Vice-Chancellor
Aboriginal Leadership

The “Nature & Health” Symposium will bring together cross-disciplinary practitioners, researchers and policy makers interested in interventions that use the known benefits of ‘Nature for health’. Through a series of interactive virtual workshops, invited guest speakers, and breakout sessions, we will examine evidence-informed nature-based interventions and discuss the merits of forming a coalition of Outdoor Healthcare providers.

The online Symposium program will run over 4 weeks in June 2020:

1. Webinar #1: Tue 2nd June (90mins) 12-1.30pm
2. Webinar #2: Tue 9th June (90mins) 7.30am-9.00am
3. Webinar #3: Tues 16th June (90mins) 12-1.30pm
4. Webinar #4: Tue 23rd June (90mins) 7.30am-9.00am
5. Webinar #5: Fri 26th June (whole-day) 9.30am-4.30pm

For a flat registration fee of $20, you will be provided with full access to all resources, and links to join all live workshops, presentations and conversations.

Outdoor Healthcare is being trialled as a term to encompass the range of evidence-informed nature-based health interventions. This includes all practices that mobilise ‘human contact with nature’ as an intentional setting, method or mechanism to support human health, wellbeing and healing.

For more information see: <http://outdoorhealthcare.org.au/>

To register for the “Nature & Health” Online Symposium go here:
<https://outdoorhealthcare.org.au/nhrpp-symposium/>

